Looking forward to another beautiful fall in the vineyards...

Greetings to our member family!

Wow, what a year we have had so far. Obviously we, like you, have had to make various changes to our day to day lives. While every year seems to go fast and finds me in disbelief when we hit harvest season, this one has been especially unbelievable. Thankfully we are here and ready to continue our longstanding tradition of producing wines that you and your families can enjoy together and from afar.

We know you may have had a trip planned to see us this year, and we want to assure you that whenever that trip happens, we will be here. While we will not be able to have an in-person member celebration this year, we are working diligently to bring the Jessup experiences to your home. Be on the lookout for a lot of exciting programming this fall, or book a virtual tasting with us! If you're close by, please come by for an outdoor tasting on the patio.

I am incredibly excited about our fall releases this year, and I hope you will share your thoughts with me. So many highly-anticipated releases, Zinfandel, Manny's Blend, Chardonnay, Cabernet Sauvignon, the list goes on - and even includes a brand new Zinfandel from Dry Creek. Be sure to keep your eyes on your inbox as some of these new wines will be released in the coming weeks!

Please stay safe, sound, and stocked up on your favorite wines, and we will see you very soon.

Cheers,

Bailey Downing, Director of Membership and Hospitality

Favorite Jessup Wine Pairing: Manny's Blend with Short Ribs

About: Mike has spent his entire career in hospitality. For 7 years, he worked for some of the top private country clubs in both Scottsdale, Arizona and Couer de'

Alene, Idaho. It was those clubs where Mike discovered his passion for wine. For the past 8 years he has worked for a couple of wineries, but truly believes he has found his forever home. “The people here, from the members to the staff, are just amazing! I feel truly blessed to be a part of such an outstanding culture.” He and his wife reside in Chico, where they both enjoy Sunday football days, and trying out new recipes together in the kitchen.
